

CONVICTED OF KILLING DAUGHTER AGED 6

Peabody, N. Y., June 3.—Nathan Ingraham was found guilty of murder in the first degree in supreme court here today for killing his six year old daughter, Beatrice, and sentenced to Justice J. Addison Young to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing in the week of July 17th.

Save for a cynical smile which played for a moment over his features, Ingraham received the verdict and sentence unmoved. Mrs. Hazel Ingraham, his wife, who had testified against him, showed no emotion.

John P. Ringwood, attorney for the prisoner, announced that he would appeal the conviction on the ground that the evidence failed to show premeditation.

According to the testimony introduced by the prosecution, the murder of the child was the culmination of a long series of beatings. The crime occurred on the morning of February 28 last, when Ingraham, angered by the child's failure to get up when he told her to do so, strangled her to death. Ingraham fled from his home at East Park after the murder but was arrested the same day at East Point, east of Peabody.

PHOENIXVILLE

A number of pupils of Mrs. Cora Clements school, District No. 5, Putnam, were selected to speak at the Memorial exercises held in East Putnam Monday.

Among these were Elmer Russ, Adeline Tefft, Minnie Towne, Lillian Bennett. One song was rendered by the school.

C. P. Latham and Vernon Bowen, who were seriously injured when they fell from the French house in Eastford, are resting comfortably at the Day Kimball hospital.

Henry May and a friend from Boston were holiday guests at George Spaulding's.

Mrs. Lee Lyon and Robert Colburn were Warrenville visitors Memorial day. A ball game between the Eastford and South Woodstock teams was played at the Academy grounds Monday. The score was largely in favor of the Eastford team. A number of Eastford people went to see the game. Dana Keith pitched and Henry May caught.

WHAT MADE THE CHANGE?

This Woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a New Woman

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had bearing-down pains so badly I could hardly stand up. I was white and very thin and nervous, had a poor appetite and only weighed 112 pounds. I took ten bottles without missing one dose and gave it a fair trial. When I finished the last bottle everyone asked me what made the wonderful change in me. I told them about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I recommend it wherever I can. I give you permission to publish this letter to help suffering women as your remedies are a godsend and made a new woman of me."—Mrs. F. A. BAKER, 4749 Butler St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Why will women drag around day after day, suffering from backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness and "the blues," enduring a miserable existence when they have such evidence as the above that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable remedy for such troubles. For nearly forty years this grand old root and herb medicine has been restoring the women of America to health.

WILLINGTON

Special exercises at the unveiling of the Soldiers' Memorial took place on the common on the Hill, Memorial day. A thousand or more people gathered to listen to the fine programme. The Rockville band furnished music. State Librarian George Godard gave a historical address. Governor Everett J. Lake addressed the assembly. With thrilling eloquence that brought tears and with ready wit that caused smiles, Governor Lake was listened to with rapt attention. Col. W. H. Hall, who had charge of the affair, spoke with much feeling of the memorial, towards which every man, woman and child had contributed. Mrs. Gahan sang expressively a patriotic solo. Rev. Percy Thomas of Rockville, Rev. Earl W. Darrow of Holyoke and Rev. Theodore Bacheiler of Providence, took part in the exercises. The monument which was hidden by flags was unveiled by Frances Bartek and Clara Talcott. Each girl had a brother who died in the service. The Scouts and school children marched to the cemetery to decorate the soldiers' graves. Many people were present from out of town. Much gratitude is felt to Col. Hall who for a month has had his team and help working on improvements about the common. There is much yet to be done, and work is going on still. The boulder is of Barre, Vt., granite, weighing 14 tons. An inscription is on the tablet, where are the United States, Connecticut and town seals.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gardner and Miss Amy Gardner of New Haven have been guests at Three Gables.

John Toth, who died in Norwich on Monday, was buried in Willington Hill cemetery, Thursday.

Mrs. Alice Snedger of New York is at Hillside for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cady and children and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cooley of Rockville, came Saturday to the Lodge, at the Ames factory. They remained until after the exercises on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Griggs of Willimantic, attended the Memorial day exercises. Mrs. Fuller was Eliza Kent before her marriage and lived in town.

Miss Lela Snow, of Akron, Ohio, is visiting her mother at the Hollow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Reed are entertaining their son and his family from New Haven.

Rev. Earl W. Darrow of Holyoke, preached Sunday. He and Mrs. Darrow were guests of Miss Mercereau over Sunday and Monday.

Li. Col. Earl D. Church, Mrs. Church and Mrs. Remington, of Hartford, were guests of Miss Jennie Church on Monday.

Among those present from out of town at the Memorial day exercises were Mr. Brigham of Mansfield Depot, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitford of Eastford, Mr. Barlow of Westford, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and Jesse Eno of Mansfield Center, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morse, and Wayne Morse of Mansfield Center, and relatives of the Mirth family, from New York.

Mrs. Emily Gardner, who is eighty-nine, received calls from Governor Lake.

WESTMINSTER

The text last Sunday was one appropriate for Memorial day. "Thou shalt tell it to thy children," the valor love of God, of country, of fellowmen, shown by those giving life for these in all our wars.

The flowers at church May 15th and 29th were specially beautiful and beautifully arranged by Elwood Hubbard.

For the mid-week home prayer service for Wednesday June 3th, the topic is "The Church and the Young People—what is their work, how can they be brought to care to do it?" Proverbs 4:1-27 and Zechariah 5:1-4.

June 5 is to be Children's day, they giving nearly all the service, during the hour of morning worship, 11 o'clock. A rehearsal is to be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the church.

June 5, at 7:30, the annual W. C. T. U. thanks offering meeting will be held at the Plains church. The secretary of the Connecticut Temperance Union is present by illness from being the speaker, but is sending W. W. Potter, of West Hartford, chief of the men's speaking force, and a worth-while address is certain.

The Westminster Ladies' Aid society has invited all women of this section to the regular monthly afternoon and supper in their room at the parsonage on Tuesday, June 7th, at 2 p. m.

Wednesday, June 9th, the W. C. T. U. is to have a field day with Mrs. S. B. Hadley and daughter, to be held at 10 a. m. Dinner will be served. It is the Lower Mission day. Bouquets are to be made from wild and cultivated flowers and sent that night to the patients at Brewster's Neck, many of whom long for flowers, but seldom can have any.

Fred Newton of Groton Iron Works and son, Will, of Storrs, were at home for Memorial day and the week end.

Deacon and Mrs. Edwin Edmond represented Westminster at the Fellowship of the Six Churches of the South Windham conference, Tuesday of last week.

Andrew Jones, who has been spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. A. Jones, has returned to New York.

Mrs. Ida Shorter has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harold George of Flatbush, N. Y., and getting acquainted with her little granddaughter, there.

Memorial day was not instituted until nearly a century after the Lexington and Concord shot, "heard around the world," and many Revolutionary heroes are yet unidentified. Until the 45th anniversary of the dedication of this church, last fall, or a little before, this was true in Westminster. But, thanks to the diligent and persistent search of records of the Revolution in the various sources, the annals of the town and the grave-stones, themselves, Mrs. Henry Dorrance, of Plainfield, a well known historical authority of this region, it has been proved that twenty-three men of Revolutionary fame, have stones here. All their graves were decorated this year for the first time by the pupils of Westminster Hill school, under direction of their teacher, Miss Young, as well as some of the other wars.

Miss Young resumed her teaching last week after an absence of one week on account of ill health.

Westminster Hill school held the annual picnic Memorial day.

Mrs. William E. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Edmond attended the council and ordination of Allen H. Gates at Scotland, last Friday; the deacon was deacon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambros Leidwein (Austrians by birth), present owners of the Edw. Baker place are greatly pleased with their new home. Frank Pease lives with them. Mr. Leidwein was in the meat business in New York and a partial bread down in health from overwork was the reason for removing to the country.

EAST KILLINGLY

Memorial day, one of East Killingly's big days, there was the usual gathering of former residents and old time friends. The exercises, consisting of music by the East Killingly band, singing by the school children of the various districts and an address by Rev. H. K. Nye of Providence, R. I., were much appreciated by a large audience. After decorating the soldiers' graves in the Mason and Bartlett cemeteries, a lunch was served in the vestry of the Upper church. Owing to the severe storm Sunday the outlying graves were decorated Monday afternoon.

The severe electrical storm of Sunday put most of the telephones out of commission. It took the repair men until Thursday to repair the damage and restore order.

Lightning struck a telephone pole near Sayles Bros' store and did considerable damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and daughter Marion of New London called on Mrs. Alice C. Greenhill Monday afternoon.

Joseph Blanding of New London and Mrs. Frank French of Brockton, Mass., visited their aunt, Mrs. Alice C. Greenhill, Memorial day.

Waldo G. Bartlett and son Roy of President made a short visit with Mrs. George W. Handy this week.

Rev. Frank A. Kent and son Merwin of Manchester, N. H., called on local friends Monday. Mr. Kent was pastor of the First Baptist church here several years ago.

Rev. C. B. Fisher was in Hartford, Tuesday and called on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewett Collins and Howard Sayles of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler and sons, Earl, Clarence and Russell, of Danielson and Mr. and Mrs. William Yare and son Robert of Manchester spent the week end with A. H. Sayles.

Friends of Arnold P. Rich are glad to hear he is gaining in strength and is able to walk about the yard and sit on the

FITCHVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Spring Hill were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harris. Sunday at church they were welcomed by many friends.

Thursday evening a good number attended the Christian Endeavor service. Miss Jennie Thompson made a very acceptable leader. The topic was Missionary Results in Africa. Thursday evening, June 3, at 8 o'clock at a C. E. meeting Herbert Hicks, field secretary, will be present. Other societies have been invited to bring as many of their members as possible. It is a public meeting.

The church services for June 5th are as follows: 11 a. m., divine worship and communion; 12:15 p. m., church school; 3 p. m., divine worship and church school at the Scott Hill meeting house; 7:30 p. m., again at Fitchville the pastor will give the message.

In Fitchville Sunday, June 13th, is to be Odd Fellows' day. At 10:30 a. m. there will be memorial service for Hope Rebekah, Shetucket and Unions lodges of Norwich.

West Hartford.—The West Hartford Parent-Teacher association will hold a flower carnival on the evening of June 6, in a natural amphitheatre on Raymond road.
